Hunts not fully paid by this date will be considered cancelled. Trip Cancellation Insurance, which we recommend, is available at: www.quotewright.com/?sub_id=6062

Make Checks Payable to: Absaroka-Beartooth Outfitters, Inc.

Drop Camp Pricing – *Due to newly imposed Forest Service requirements we may be unable to continue to offer hunters this service.

The base rate for a drop camp is $500. The rate for stock is $25 per hour per animal. Example: If you want to be dropped off 4 hours from the trailhead, this requires 8 hours round trip for your guide and his stock (4hrs. in + 4hrs. out = 8 hours). If the trip requires 3 animals (your guide's horse, the horse you are riding, and one pack mule) that would be $75 per hour ($25 X 3 animals) X 8 hours = $600. Add the $600 to the base rate of $500 and the total for your drop camp would be $1100.

INFORMATION FOR WILDERNESS HUNTING

Our wilderness hunts are in rugged, rigorous country, typical of the great hunting areas in North America. The area in which we hunt is prime habitat for elk, mountain goat, bighorn sheep, moose, black bear and wolf. The elk in this area are a resident and migratory herd. The area is rough and remote which allows the elk the years necessary to develop quality antlers. The landscape varies from large open meadows to lightly timbered south slopes and long benches. This area is also grizzly bear habitat; however, encounters are rare. The weather in September is usually in the sixties and seventies during the day and in the thirties at night. It gets cold in October and much colder in November. It can snow in September and be mild in November. One thing you can always count on is that mountain weather is unpredictable.

ABO operates three wilderness hunting camps: Hellroaring, Independence and Bassett Creek. Hellroaring, an early season camp, is located in Bull Moose Meadows, 8 miles north of Yellowstone National Park. We hunt elk, deer, mountain goat, black bear and moose out of Hellroaring. It is accessed by a 12-mile horseback ride. Getting to Hellroaring from Bozeman or Big Timber takes the better part of a day.

Accommodations in Hellroaring include comfortable carpeted wall tents with cots, foam pads and wood stoves. There are 3 or 4 hunters per tent. A shower is available, which is always medicine for the weary. Hearty meals are prepared by our great camp cook and are served in a central eating tent.

Independence is a multi-purpose camp. It is used for bow hunting, early season rifle hunting, sheep hunting, goat hunting and the early part of the general season. It is located 55 miles south of Big Timber at the head of the Boulder River. Independence is accessed by 4 x 4 vehicles. Accommodations and meals are similar to Hellroaring but without the shower.

Bassett Creek is a general season backcountry camp. It is located in the Greater Yellowstone area just outside Gardiner, Montana. Gardiner is the north entrance to Yellowstone National Park. Bassett Creek is accessed by a two hour horseback ride to camp. Accommodations include comfortable wall tents with meals prepared by our camp cook. When hunting the Greater Yellowstone area we will base out of a hunting lodge above Yellowstone National Park. Depending on the elk and the weather we may or may not choose to stay overnight in the Bassett Creek Camp.

A typical day of hunting consists of leaving after breakfast and riding before daybreak. Some days we will hunt until late morning, return to camp, and then hunt again in the late afternoon until dark. Other days we will stay out all day. Walking and/or riding are mandatory. Being in good condition for hiking and riding will help you have a more successful hunt. We hunt as hard as you choose to hunt. Mountain goat and bighorn sheep hunters should expect long days of glassing. Our guides are experienced outdoorsmen and know the area extremely well.
